Visitor's top tips

Welsh Highland Train

A great day out is to Morfa Nefyn on the Lleyn peninsula, a fishing port which can only be reached by foot.

The Glaslyn Osprey project is great, best visited through the spring and summer.

The Cemlyn Tea Room in Harlech is dog-friendly, serves great food and a lovely selection of teas.

Walk from the site to the Rhaedr Ddu Waterfall.

The Grapes Hotel was good for food and dogs were welcome in the bar.

The Bryn Arms Public House is located directly opposite from site, serving excellent food and great drinks with lovely service - dogs are welcome too.

There are lots of beautiful Stately Homes and Gardens around the area.

Abersoch is a lovely seaside town to visit for the day.

We went on the Welsh Highland steam railway as well as the Ffestiniog - highly recommend it for a scenic and relaxing journey - we enjoyed stopping off at one or two of the locations for a wander around.
