Visitor's top tips

From Studland catch the ferry to Poole, a great way to travel through the famous Sandbanks district.

Walk or cycle to Corfe, a village in the heart of the Purbecks with beautiful views from the castle.

The site is near to the sandy beach at Swanage and a glorious stretch of golden sands at Studland Bay.

Swanage has a lovely promenade, you can get there by steam train from just down the road.

Bovington Tank Museum makes a fantastic half-day out.

From Poole, take a cruise to Brownsea Island, its a great visit for wildlife lovers!

The Greyhound Pub in Corfe was fabulous - delicious food, excellent service and very dog-friendly!

Definitely explore the National Trust's Lulworth Cove, Durdle Door, Old Harry Rocks and Studland Bay.

Tyneham Village is a fascinating day out; known as Dorset's Forgotten Village, it has been deserted for over 60 years and feels as if it's frozen in time.

Walking to the Jurassic Coast is a must, as is visiting Lulworth Castle.

The RSPB Arne Nature Reserve is a wonderful visit, and is one of the UK's few places where all six native reptiles can be found.
