Kelso

Visitor's top tips

II Try Gin tasting at Abbey Fine Wines at the top of the High St and don't miss the award winning butchers.

A walk on the Eildon Hills is a must, as is a visit to Scots View.

The footpath along the old railway line takes you to Tweedbank where you can catch a train (every half hour) to Edinburgh for the day.

Rugby Sevens was invented here in 1883, Border teams meet for an annual Tournament every April.

Melrose Festival is held every mid-June.

Don't miss the Glenkinchie whisky distillery.

Walk along the railway route to Gala.

The River Tweed is good for fishing, and there's also fly fishing at the black watch reservoir.

Plenty of local walks – Town Trail, Leaderfoot, Eildon Hills.

Harmony Gardens and Priorwood Gardens are right in the centre of town, which was a pleasant surprise. Both are NTS properties but entry is by donation. Well worth a look.

The small museum in the high street is worth a visit.

We thought Hawick was a lovely place to visit. II
