DIRECTIONS

- 1 Turn left out of the site and cycle 1.7 miles on the B3306 to the Carn Brea (signposted Crows-an-Wra) right turn. Land's End Airport has cafe facilities open to the public just beyond the turn.
- 2 This stretch is the toughest part up to Carn Brea. The views behind and in front take in the Penwith Peninsula.
- 3 At Crows-an-Wra take the A30 to the right turn off to St Buryan. The trip from the B3306 via Crows-an-Wra to St Buryan is just over 3 miles.
- 4 St Buryan has an inn and shops.
- 5 From St Buryan to Sennen is 3.6miles, mainly on NCN 3 on narrow country lanes.
- 6 If you would like some more challenging cycling, carry on the B3283/B3315 to Penberth, Porthcurno and Porthgwarra. This will add around 10 more hard miles to the trip.
- 7 Alternatively continue East on NCN 3 to Lamorna Cove. It's downhill all the way, so keep some energy for the trip back (7miles return trip).

DON'T MISS

“ The cafe has a good selection of dishes with breakfast and evening meals well catered for. The Sunday Roast was a favourite and it was prudent to book for this. The supply of home made cakes ruined our diets... The views of the surrounding countryside and sea views, especially the sunsets, can be breath-taking. ”
