Welcome to Hunter's Moon Caravan Club Site

Get to know your site

On the edge of the Wareham Forest, this pleasant site provides an excellent base for touring Dorset. Wareham is the nearest town 3 miles away with a good selection of shops and places to eat. Some of the most attractive parts of Dorset are owned by the National Trust including substantial stretches of coastline.

It is rich in combs, cliffs, bays and islands and particularly rewarding for the visitor interested in birdlife and walking. Golden Cap where the Trust owns 2,000 acres of hill farmland, cliff and beach has the highest cliff in England, brilliant with yellow gorse.

This is Hardy country and you can recognise many scenes he describes in his novels. Casterbridge is Dorchester (18 miles). His birthplace, a charming thatched cottage with a garden ablaze with colour, is at Higher Bockhampton and can be visited by appointment with the National Trust. Lawrence of Arabia's house at Cloud's Hill (10 miles) is also open to visitors.
